

Calling in the Beloved

With Linda E. Savage, Ph.D.

Sunday, February 14, 2010

10:00 am to 5:30 pm

Sky Mountain Sanctuary
1830 Rincon Ave, Escondido, CA 92050

A dynamic one day retreat, blending concepts from many spiritual traditions, we will share our stories, build energy with a Mesa, develop our visioning powers, strengthen our connection to body wisdom and create a personal focus wheel. The day ends with a ceremony in the Moon House and a commitment to self practice. Included in the event are items to take home: a meditation CD, a visioning board, and candle from the Mesa offering a pathway to continue the experience.

- I Mesa narratives
- II Deepening the power of Visioning
- III Womb Wisdom
- IV Yearning Transformed
- V Creating Personal Focus Wheel
- VI "Calling in the Beloved" Ceremony
- VII Commitment and Completion

February 14th is not only Valentine's Day, it is also the day of the new moon and the Chinese new year. The energies are in alignment for new creation on this day.

What you need to bring: Please wear comfortable clothing that you can move in, comfortable walking shoes or sneakers and dress in layers since we will be on a mountain. Also, please bring your journal, a percussion instrument (a rattle or a small drum). Most importantly, please bring an object that represents what you would like to let go of, in regards to relationship and an object that represents what you would like to keep.

Cost: $90 for the day including materials and take home items. We will provide salad, water and tea. You may bring your own lunch if you wish.

Facilitator: Linda E. Savage, Ph.D. is a licensed psychologist, marriage and family therapist and AASECT certified sex educator who brings the wisdom of her 30 years of experience treating couples and is the author of Reclaiming Goddess Sexuality, a blend of current clinical knowledge and ancient wisdom.
